

RAFAEL MOSES GARCIA
THE BURN LIST
PAP1-1601
01/26/2016

Last week I tried going for an onslaught approach to my Burn List. Let us say that it only partially worked. Even though I was trying to just get everything done as early as possible I found myself somewhat unable to concentrate on the task at hand. There always seemed to be stray thoughts in my head from another assignment that I had done. So in order to rid myself of that aimless feeling I am going to incorporate my Burn List into my school work planner. This will hopefully make my planner more detailed and allow me to focus only on what I am doing.

On Tuesday I will get all my 0% assignments done at 8 A.M. – 10:30 A.M. then I will take a breakfast break. Coming back I will work on my Burn List from 11 A.M. through noon followed by getting ready for work and leaving for the rest of the day. Wednesday I will do WK 4: Anchor Points at 10 A.M. through noon then leave for work. Thursday I will do WK 4: Growth and WK 4: SWOT Follow-up from noon until 2:30 P.M. then leave for work. Saturday I will devote to the rest of my assignments all day ending everything with the Course Evaluation.
